

Senior Application Developer .Net (m/w/d)

Introduction

EDISOFT GmbH is one of the top service providers in the German financial services industry and has been known in the market since 1991 for its software products. In our core business, we provide our customers with innovative intelligent software applications and databases. Attention to detail, optimal user-friendliness, and functional reliability are our top priorities. Our IT products serve as the interface between banks, asset management companies, insurance companies, financial service providers and their customers.

Your Qualifications

- 5+ years of experience as a developer with very good knowledge in a type-based programming language (e.g. C#, Java or TypeScript) - experience in developing modern JavaScript applications (ES6/TypeScript) is a plus
- Excellent skills in modern software development practices and strong in applying SOLID, KISS and YAGNI principles
- Focused on shipping tested, well-structured and high quality code to production
- Hands-on mentality, quality awareness, independent work and problem solving
- Drive and enthusiasm to advance the product – your attitude inspires others to top performance
- You speak fluent English and German at least on a B1 level

Your Responsibilities

- Develop tested, well-structured and high quality code within a module-based, multilayer Software System based on SQL Databases
- Play an important role in conceptualization, feature development and optimization of the existing codebase
- Take ownership of your services and functions, collaborating closely with the management
- Drive architectural decisions, technical innovations and infrastructural topics

Senior Application Developer .Net (m/w/d)

Benefits

Our goal is that you feel comfortable with us. We attach great importance to a collegial atmosphere and an environment characterized by a sense of community. Continuous exchange, team spirit and respectful interaction and flat hierarchies ensure a working atmosphere that brings people together.

- You will receive a permanent employment contract in a successful company
- 30 vacation days
- Thanks to our flexitime policy and the option to work mobile for up to three days, you can structure your working hours flexibly
- Your health is important to us: attractive fitness studio conditions for the "body+soul" as well as free fruit baskets and drinks
- Flat hierarchies, short decision-making processes and a team-oriented working atmosphere
- Training and further education programs
- Individual personnel development: programs optimally tailored to the respective career stage
- There are also numerous company and team events as well as corporate benefits waiting for you
- We are part of a group of companies and therefore we can offer a safe place to work and access to a large pool of experienced developers
- We are located in Munich near the S-Bahnhof Perlach

Are you interested?

If you think you could be a particularly good fit for us, feel free to send us your detailed application documents by email.

We are looking forward to receiving your application!

EDISOFT GmbH
Personalabteilung
Unterhachinger Straße 75
D-81737 München

Tel: +49 (89) 20 40 71 -700
Fax: +49 (89) 20 40 71 -800
Mail: jobs.hr@edisoft.de
Web: www.edisoft.de